Military Coup in Argentina Expected Soon

BY FRANK N. MANITZAS
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina
(AP)—Combat-ready troops carried out the first stages of a plan to overthrow President Arturo Frondizi today, but it stopped just short of an outright coup.

Military units occupied Government House in Santa Rosa, capital of La Pampa Province.
Other units in battle dress rushed to guard positions at communications and other nerve centers in Buenos Aires and key provincial cities.

Troops at Government House, who Tuesday changed from their red, blue and gold uniforms for battle fatigues, stationed themselves just outside Frondizi's office for the first time in the 11-day crisis. These guards carried submachine guns.

Grim and gaunt from the 11 days of crisis, Frondizi drove to his office from his suburban home. He smiled wanly as reporters asked him for comment
but remained silent.

The military occupation of radio stations, central telephone offices and public works plants obviously was a move to thwart any disturbance and to be in a position for a military takeover of the nation if it is ordered by the army, navy and air chiefs.

Military sources said the combined armed forces at a pre-dawn session decided to put into action plans for the forcible ouster of the embattled president after he again rejected their demands that he quit.

But at midmorning there was a sudden halt in the plans, apparently to give Frondizi one more chance to resign.

As the situation grew more tense, Interior Minister Hugo Vaca Narvaja told newsmen "calm prevails throughout the nation, at least externally."

The minister said that if any measures had been adopted in the armed forces "they have not found expression outside the barracks."

The military occupation of such places as telephone exchanges, he said, was "a precaution to avoid the possibility of attacks against communication centers."

Reports from garrison cities in the interior said all was quiet at those places.

Shortly after midnight, Frondizi again refused the demand of the military chiefs that he resign, and said his decision was "final and irrevocable."

Defense Minister Rodolfo Martinez was reported ready with a compromise that would keep Frondizi in office while giving the military a veto over his decrees.

Although the plan was not to be presented formally until later today, a military official confirmed that no service would accept any proposal to share the government responsibility with Frondizi.

The military official said the commander in chief of the army, Gen. Raul Poggi, had ordered
"Plan 3"—the overthrow of Fron-dizi by force—executed at 7:30
a. m. The navy reportedly began plans to move. The army and air force reportedly requested a postponement until noon.

There was no immediate word from Frondizi, who went home from government house and presumably to bed after rejecting the military demand that he resign.

Defense Minister Martinez refused to tell newsmen the details of the president's compromise proposal, but his main point was believed to be that the secretaries of the army, navy and air force would be required by law to sign each presidential decree before it could take effect.

Sources said the plan called for Frondizi to ask Congress to give

CLARENDON, Ark. (AP)—A purse containing $9,953 in cash and checks was found here Tuesday by a group of carpenters on their way to work.

It had been lost near the White River bridge by Mrs. Alice Maker of Memphis who was traveling through Arkansas en route to California.

Mrs. Maker reported the loss Monday at nearby Stuttgart. She said she put the purse on the trunk of her car when she stopped for gas.

The purse, which held $933.1
cash and $9,000 in checks fell off as Mrs. Maker was driving toward Stuttgart. She spent Monday night at a Stuttgart motel and left for California Tuesday morning.

Rusk Reports to Kennedy on Conference

BY LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk reports to President Kennedy today on the Geneva disarmament conference which he says got under way in a good atmosphere.

Rusk, who returned Tuesday night from 16 days of East-West talks on disarmament and Berlin, had a midmorning date with the President followed by a National Security Council meeting at the White House.

The secretary of state was expected to meet also with the Senate and House Foreign Relations Committees, probably Thursday.

While no major progress occurred on basic cold war disputes the 17-nation disarmament conference did not break up in an angry flurry as have some past East-West gatherings. The Soviets showed a willingness to keep on talking about Berlin rather than pressing the issue to the point of war.

Lower level delegates remained at Geneva for what is expected to be months of negotiating on the complicated and still largely unresolved disarmament issues.

The Berlin talks, by agreement between Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko at Geneva, are slated for renewal after an inconclusive round between Gromyko and U.S. Ambasador Llewellyn Thompson at Moscow earlier this year.

Informal sources said the site of the main U.S.-Soviet discussions on Berlin probably will shift to Washington with the Soviet representative to be Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin. Russian sources have been touting the new Soviet ambassador here as a man close to Premier Khrushchev.

Rusk told Tuesday night that while the Geneva meeting showed some points of agreement, the major disagreement between the West and the Communists over controls—a past obstacle to disarmament accord—still continues.

Gromyko gave no ground on verification and inspection which the Western powers say is necessary for a meaningful arms cut pact.

Rusk predicted this far-reaching disagreement will be troublesome for the Geneva negotiators, but he praised the eight nonaligned countries at the conference table for trying "to be as helpful as possible."

McMath said today the way Gov. Orval E. Faubus goes will have no effect on his own political plans.

McMath served two terms in 1948-52. He gave Faubus his first state job as executive secretary to the governor, later named him to the Highway Commission and finally had him appointed to the paid position of highway director.

Faubus and McMath split during the 1957 Little Rock integration crisis when McMath opposed Faubus' use of National Guard troops to block integration at Little Rock Central High School.

As speculation mounted that Faubus will not seek reelection, names of probable candidates dropped up from many points.

Atty. Gen. Frank Holt said Tuesday he definitely would consider making the race if Faubus pulls out.

Holt indicated he would under-no circumstances run if the governor seeks reelection. He said he had tailored his political career to seeking offices being vacated by the incumbent.

Holt served six years as Pulaski County prosecutor and now is in his first term as attorney general.
An office he sought after Atty.
Gen. Bruce Bennett ran for governor in 1960.

Bennett was another of those who indicated again Tuesday he might run if Faubus does not.
Bennett finished third behind Faubus and Joe Hadden of Grady in 1960.

Bennett also indicated he might run for attorney general if the governor's race attracts Holt.

Profits $50 Billion Year to Underworld

WASHINGTON (AP)—An investigating subcommittee told the Senate today the underworld may pocket more than $50 billion a year in gambling profits. This would be almost as much as the government plans to spend for defense this year.

Picturing law enforcement as waging a losing battle against organized crime, the senate investigations subcommittee appealed for enactment of a cluster of laws by the police, make the corruption of athletes a federal crime and cut communications lines linking a vast interstate network of big time gambling.

It also urged the Internal Revenue Service to consider recommending to Congress stiffer taxes on gamblers' "take" and sterner penalties for tax evasion.

The report, filed with the Senate by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said his subcommittee's investigations have demonstrated that the underworld reaps a harvest of illegal profits perhaps exceeding $50 billion a year from gambling, much of it crooked.

As a comparison, the U.S. government expected to take in from all sources, including taxes, $93 billion this year. Of this $52 billion goes for defense.

The subcommittee said the gambling take is used in part to bankroll other criminal activities, including millions a year for the corruption of police and prosecutors.

"Of particular concern to the U.S. Congress has been the apparent failure of law enforcement to keep pace with the growth of organized crime in the United States," the report said in its preamble.

The subcommittee also called for a crackdown on brothers of college and professional athletes.

Calling for wiretapping powers for the police, now forbidden by federal law, the subcommittee
said:

"The telephone is the one instrument which is absolutely necessary to gamblers and racketeers... it is unconceivable that they should be permitted to use this instrument with impunity."

The report also called for tightening of existing laws against use of telephones to transmit betting information, and consideration of legislation to "prohibit the dissemination of horse race results and related information from race tracks for one hour before each race begins and for one hour after the completion of each race."

It said the later proposal
"would have a most salutary effect" because bookmakers need their information quickly.

Additional Talk From Governor Hints Retirement

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov.
Orval E. Faubus talked again today like a man who is retiring from politics.

He has promised an announcement on his political plans over a statewide telecast at 7:30 p. m.
Saturday.

Today, Faubus discussed political possibilities if he does not run, with newsmen for more than half an hour. There was little said about the possibility that he would seek a fifth term.

Faubus said more than half a dozen potential candidates had talked to him about possible support if he withdraws.

"But if I do not run," he said,
"One of the reasons will be to shed the burden of the office. If I back someone and everyone is going to come to me to get to see the governor, whoever he is,
I might as well run myself."

Faubus said chances that he would seek some other political office besides governor were minimal.

The governor said a strong possibility exists, whether he runs or not, that the Republican Party will make a spirited bid to take the state's top office this year.

"There is no question but what Winthrop Rockefeller is waiting in the wings and if the summons is strong, he will appear," Faubus
said.

Rockefeller, chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, is the GOP national committeeman for Arkansas and he has admitted in the past he might like to be governor.

Faubus declined to discuss the chances of candidates who might run for governor if he withdraws, except to say Atty. Gen. Frank Holt "would be one of the stronger candidates if he runs."

Holt said Tuesday he was definitely considering the race if Faubus retires, but he indicated he would not run against the governor.

Faubus still refused to commit himself not to run. Each time newsmen attempted to pin him down, he sidestepped a definite answer.

Faubus said that, although he has no plans now to endorse any candidate, he might, if he does not run, take a personal hand in the race against some man he might feel would not be good for the state.

Kenneth Coffelt, a Little Rock attorney who has declared himself a candidate for governor, said the Faubus administration will have a "fair-haired boy" in the race even if the governor does not run.

Balanced Budget Hopes Are Fading

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's hopes for a balanced budget in the coming fiscal year are fading fast, due partly to legislative proposals and partly to the economy's recent sluggishness.

While administration officials refuse to concede that the battle is lost, they are increasingly less certain about achieving their economic and budgetary goals.

In January, Kennedy proposed spending $92,537,000,000 in the 1962 fiscal year which begins on July 1. He foresaw record revenues of $93 billion—enough to produce a slim surplus of $463 million.

The slower rate of economic advance early in 1962 has put the biggest damper on January's optimism. Other factors have added to the potential swing toward continued red ink spending.

For instance, enactment of the public works program which Kennedy proposed Monday would add $350 million to spending. The tax reform bill awaiting House action would subtract $350 million from revenues.

The public works program, for areas of high unemployment, would whittle the indicated surplus to $113 million. The tax bill, if also enacted, would swing the budget into the red by $237 million.

These figures assume, of course, that all other factors would remain unchanged—which they won't. On the one hand, Congress will be paying down the administration's spending plans. On the other, the possibility of a less vigorous economic advance will present a threat to revenues.

In the January-March quarter, the gross national product—GNP—apparently totaled about $559 billion, at an annual rate. This would be $3 billion to $4 billion short of January forecasts.

Her Father-In-Law Makes Three a Crowd

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My husband and I are kind people who want to see everybody happy. For this reason, when his mother died, we decided to take his Dad in our home. That was 10 years ago and I'm proud to say, we have never yet had any words or even a slight argument.

Dad has his own apartment, TV, radio and so forth. His is one of the most comfortable rooms in our home. Alas he never uses it! He is always present when we have guests, first at table and, no matter how much my husband and I long to talk, constantly at our elbows. How true — "Two's company, three's a crowd!"

My husband tries, in a nice way, to explain to Dad that we need a little privacy once in a while but it doesn't register. Are all elderly peep the same? Can't they understand that the other generation wants to enjoy friends who are of the same age and think along the same lines? Is there anything we can say or do to make Dad understand that our friends no longer come to see us because he is ever present? We wouldn't hurt his feelings for the world yet I do think he should show a little consideration for us when we have been so kind to him. —Distracted Daughter-in-law.

Dear Distracted: Different generations should never live under the same roof unless in separate apartments. Otherwise somebody is bound to suffer. Since your father-in-law has an apartment of his own, encourage him to use it. Invite one of his cronies to dine with him the night of your party. If this isn't practical, arrange for him to entertain his friend in a neighborhood restaurant. Without saying it in so many words, show him that he should lead his own life, not yours. If the ranks of his old friends are thinning, see that he makes new ones. Membership in some club devoted to his interest or hobbies would be helpful. As a turn-about, throw an occasional party for him and his friends. Once it's launched, withdraw. All this requires time and planning on your part but the effort will pay dividends.

Dear Helen: I am a 20-year-old girl in love with a boy slightly younger. But that isn't our problem. We plan to marry after he completes his schooling and tour of duty in the Army. He graduates this June and will enter the Service soon after.

I say he should save his money and send to me toward our future home while his mother thinks that his allotments should be forwarded to his parents.

He agrees with me but thinks you're the one to decide for us. I am very religious, don't believe in dating, make-up, indecent clothes or movies. My boy friend has come around to my way of thinking on all these subjects. His upbringing was also very strict. We see each other only once a week—on Sundays and spend that time at home with our family. Then go to church with my sisters and brother. My boy friend leaves at nine.

I believe with all my heart that I was raised as all children should

Homesick for Past Brings Nostalgic Joy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Homesickness for the past can bring many a nostalgic joy.

But don't you think we've all gone on something of an emotional jag in remembering the so-called "Roaring 20s" with such suffocating affection?

The decade between 1920 and 1930 certainly had its memorable moments. But was it really as wild and free-wheeling as it has been pictured recently in books, movies and on the television screen?

If one judged the 1920s only as seen through this mist of fond recollection and unchecked imagination, here is how life saw in those palmy days:

No one really worked for a living. Everybody made his money on the stock market or in the Florida land boom.

There were only three cities—New York, Chicago and Hollywood. The rest of the country was empty.

There was only one author. His name was F. Scott Fitzgerald.

be raised, and intend to bring mine up the same way. May God bless you in giving us advice. —Wondering.

Dear Wondering: The decision of how your boy friend should spend his money lies with him, or his mother, not you. Unless you encourage him to make his own decisions you will have a child, not a man, on your hands when and if you marry.

Be on your guard against narrowness of mind. He may conform to your thinking now but watch out! He will soon learn that in the Army movies and dating are not considered sinful. For your sake and his, cultivate tolerance.

Memo to ProtyTeacher: Don't sell yourself short by settling for a husband who is not your equal mentally. I'm not being snobbish, just realistic. Hang on to your ideals. Like attracts like.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine, care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Successful Marriage."

Publication of Warrants Before Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court has been asked to decide whether a county clerk must publish lists of warrants if no appropriation is made to pay publication costs.

The court will rule in a case appealed from St. Francis Circuit Court. Judge Elmo Taylor ruled in a taxpayer's suit that County Clerk Dorothy Bernard had to publish warrants even though the quorum court had provided no funds for the purpose.

County Judge M. D. Clark joined the clerk in the appeal because he would have to approve warrants paying for any such publication.

Ward was a defendant in the original suit, but Taylor held he was not involved since his duties would not be invoked until after the warrant was published.

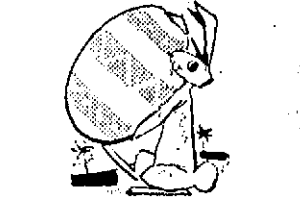

Clark said Monday he had received an opinion from Atty. Gen. Frank Holt, who said a 1947 state law prohibited a county judge from approving the expenditure of county money unless the quorum court had made an appropriation for the specific purpose.

Since Taylor held the warrants must be published, St. Francis County officials are caught in a bind between the two laws. The Supreme Court will decide which law takes precedent.

No Passes to Dog Race Track

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—No passes will be issued to the general public for the 1962 Greyhound Racing meet at the Southland Corp.'s track in West Memphis, Revenue Commissioner Ted Donham announced today.

The announcement may be the opening wedge in an administrative move to eliminate passes both at West Memphis and for the Oaklawn Park horse race meet at Hot Springs.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus said earlier this year that Hot Springs racing passes were an annoyance and he would like to see them eliminated.

Southland passes have not been as much trouble, since they were issued by the track. The State Racing Commission traditionally has handled Oaklawn passes.

Southland's two consecutive 50-day race meets run June 22 through October 16 this year. Donham said the track issued about 1,000 passes last year.

Pro Golfers Prepare for the Masters

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—A good parlay in next week's Masters Golf Tournament, says Fred Corcoran, is 49-year-old Ben Hogan and 21-year-old Jack Nicklaus.

"Hogan is playing beautifully," the tournament director of the International Golf Association said today, after watching the final lineup at Miami. "He really looks like the Hogan of old. And that boy, Nicklaus—his power scares you."

Corcoran, the man credited with building the PGA tour into a million-dollar enterprise, watched most of the game's present greats take their swings last weekend in the Doral Invitation.

"From tee to green, Hogan is still the greatest golfer in the world," the thick-necked executive, a one-time Boston caddy, said. "For 18 holes, I'd match him against anybody. Unfortunately, his putting lacks the authority of his heyday."

"The six and eight-footers don't drop for Ben the way they used to. It's not the legs that go first in this game. It's nerves, and putting ability. But Hogan is a tremendous competitor and a marvelous golfer. He could win another Masters—and another Open."

"Young Nicklaus is very impressive. I saw him hit the green with a 5-iron on his second shot as a mule, is loaded with confidence and has only one problem that I can see—weight. He may be inclined to get fat."

Hogan, in his first tournament start of the year, made an impressive showing at Miami, firing rounds of 74-72-71-69 for 284 and a tie for fourth place. Nicklaus was a stroke better at 285. The title was won by Bill Casper Jr., with 283.

Injuries in Doing Twist Under Probe

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Medical men investigate how often humans swallow, the return of some alcoholics to safe social drinking, and injuries from dancing the Twist.

Eating a 10-minute lunch, the average person apparently swallows 48 times, and he swallows 7 to 8 times during a full night's sleep.

Sitting and reading, 15 volunteers also averaged 34 swallows per hour, and 31 while lying down awake, reports Dr. Clement S. Lear of the Harvard School of Dental Medicine.

The reduced amount of swallowing during sleep, with little or no salivation, may affect the activity of mouth bacteria, Dr. Lear says.

A dictum among experts on alcoholism is that the confirmed alcoholic can never return to social drinking. Most times, one drink or a few drinks lead to destructive binges.

But this may not always be so, says Dr. R. M. Davies, a British psychiatrist from London. He tells of seven men, out of 93 persons given limited psychiatric treatment, who were able to resume social drinking, and have been able to drink moderately for 7 to 11 years since then.

He gave his report in the quarterly Journal of Alcohol Studies, publication of the Rutgers Center of Alcohol Studies. The center recently moved to Rutgers from Yale University.

Braves Are Going With New Slogan

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves have a slogan this year. It is "something new in '62."

Warren Spahn, who will be 41 next month, likes to remind people of the slogan.

"Do you think they were trying to give me a hint?" he laughed. The baseball world knows of the brilliant left-hander's mound accomplishments last year, his 16th with the Braves. For the benefit of those who do not, Spahn not only registered his 12th 20-game winning season, but chipped in with his second no-hitter.

The raw-boned Oklahoman, whose only concession to age is a retreating hairline, didn't promise another 20-victory season but didn't bet against it.

"We've got a new manager," he said meaningfully, "and I want to prove to him I can still win. Also, we've got some good young pitchers in camp this spring and I've got to set an example for them."

How long will he go on? "That's up to the hitters," Spahn replied. "I haven't gotten the message yet."

When he finally gets the message, what will he do then? "I'd like to get a shot at managing in the big leagues," he said, his long lean face taking on a serious look. "Baseball is not only my bread and butter, it's my life. I've given managing a lot of thought. I think I can handle it."

"I've played under such managers as Casey Stengel, Billy Southworth, Charlie Grimm, Fred Haney, Charlie Dressen and Birdie Tebbets. I think I've learned something from each."

"Actually, a fellow doesn't know if he can manage until he tries it. I'd like to get the opportunity."

"Incidentally, did you hear the Spahn slogan for 1962?"

"Something old, but not yet ready to fold."

Rules Assessor Can't Spend More

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Calhoun County cannot spend additional funds to assess property in the old Shumaker Naval Ordnance Depot, Atty. Gen. Frank Holt ruled today.

Calhoun County Clerk Ross Watson wrote that the quorum court had appropriated only $6,000 for salaries and expenses in the assessor's office and assessing the Shumaker property for the first time was expected to be expensive.

He asked if warrants for more than $6,000 could be issued under the circumstances.

Hope Captures Both Divisions in Track Meet

By VINCE FOSTER

The Hope junior and senior track teams both took first place honors in a meet here yesterday, consisting of Hope, Prescott and Guernsey. The Bobcats led until the 440 dash, where they dropped slightly behind. However, the locals won three out of the final four events to win 63 points to 46 for Prescott.

The Belkittens ran away with it in their division, taking it with 54 points. Prescott followed with 23 and Guernsey had 19½.

Kendall Yocum tied a six year old school record for the shot put. Jack Moran is the co-holder with 40'11". The local mile relay team, consisting of Horton, Sullivan, Compton and Parris, broke another six year record in running that relay in 3:49.2. Also Compton was within six-tenths of a second of the 880 yard run record.

Warriors Even Series With Celtics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia Warriors, with Bill Chamberlain having a big night against Bill Russell for a change, are back even with Boston in the best-of-7 Eastern Division final playoffs of the National Basketball Association.

But the Los Angeles Lakers have the Detroit Pistons on the ropes in the West.

The Warriors, with Chamberlain scoring 42 points and Russell getting only 9, called to whip the Celtics 113-106 Tuesday night in Philadelphia. They move to Boston for tonight's third game with the Eastern series tied at one game apiece.

The Lakers, on the other hand, are 3-0 over the Pistons after winning at Detroit 111-106. Los Angeles can wrap it up by winning the fourth game, scheduled for Thursday night at Detroit.

Possibly This Could Be the Cardinal Year

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Could this be the year of the Cardinal?

St. Louis hasn't flown a National League pennant in 16 years, the Cards aren't anywhere near being favorites now, and it's a sure bet they won't be when the season opens in two weeks.

But they have been very impressive in Florida—and the NL has produced three surprise winners in the last three pennant scrambles.

The Cardinals have been steaming in exhibition games, with a winning string that now numbers nine after Tuesday's 8-7 decision over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Overall, St. Louis is 12-4 and leader in the preseason standings.

Scoring three times in the fifth inning with the aid of three balks by Pittsburgh left-hander Bob Veale, the Cards tied it at 4-4. They added three more in the sixth, the clincher in the seventh and withstood a Pirate rally in the ninth. John Anderson, gunning for a berth on the St. Louis staff, turned in three scoreless innings and was the winner.

On the hitting side, slick-fielding shortstop Julio Golay got three singles, rookie Rex Johnston had a triple and double, and Ken Boyer homered.

If the Cards have been a surprise this spring, Houston's new Colts have been a stunner. They won the 11th of their last 13 Tuesday, beating the San Francisco Giants 11-4 with a 16-hit barrage that included two homers apiece by Roman Mejias and Hal Smith.

On the other side of the coin, the Milwaukee Braves took their 12th setback in 16 exhibitions, losing to the Chicago White Sox 3-1.

The Cincinnati Reds came out of a three-game losing string, beating the Minnesota Twins 6-3; by the New York Mets 3-2; the New York Yankees squeezed Chicago Cubs romped against the Cleveland Indians 12-3; the Baltimore Orioles tripped the Kansas City Athletics 5-2; the Los Angeles Dodgers downed the Philadelphia Phillies 6-4; the Detroit Tigers pounded the Washington Senators 10-4; and the Los Angeles Angels beat the Boston Red Sox 4-1.

Jose Poyre, 195½, Belgium, 5. MILAN—Dulio Loi, 142, Italy, outpointed Billy Collins, 145½, Detroit, 10.

Homers Fail to Win for Porks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas slammed two homers, but succumbed to the steady hitting of Buena Vista College of Iowa 8-4 in a baseball game here Tuesday.

Jerry Carlton and Billy Joe Moody applied the wood for Arkansas, while Ervin Dotson was the big man for the Beavers.

It was the first loss for the Razorback nine.

The two teams meet again here today in a doubleheader.

Blue Croon Wins Spa Headliner

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — J. E. Cosgrove's Blue Croon defeated six other contenders and survived an objection to win the $3,500 headliner Tuesday at Oaklawn Park.

A crowd of 8,394 watched the 4-year-old bay colt grab the lead at the far turn and scott on in to the winners circle.

Sidney LeJeune piloted Mrs. Emil Denemark's Mangam to second place, one and three-quarters of a length further back and a length in front of W. Hal Bishop's Pyrite, ridden by Robert Nono. LeJeune claimed the foul, but Oaklawn stewards did not allow it. LeJeune charged that Blue Croon interfered in the first turn with mangam.

Wayne Chambers guided the winner over the mile and 70 yards of fast track in 1:42 1-5. Blue Croon, the favorite, registered his first victory in five starts here, and returned $5.20, $3.20 and $2.60.

Mutuel handle for the nine races was $531,477, an increase of $159,910 over the handle on the 33rd day last year.

Heading Wednesday's featured $5,000 Ballerina race is Miss Oaklawn and Soddy Daisy, who will be competing against a half dozen mounts who have won at this meeting.

Miss Oaklawn, owned by Mrs. Walter Shrader, wife of the track superintendent, and Soddy Daisy owned by Davis and John Bell Jr., were victorious in previous races, all at the four-furlong distance of the Ballerina.

Mrs. Veronica Ford's Mon Petite, also a winner in her first outing, probably will rule as second choice in the juvenile event. Others considered a threat are River Farm's Six Dees, who equalled the track record of :34 for three furlongs, and H. H. Mundy's Tipoguen.

Mon Petite will run as an entry with Adanir, a first-time starter owned by the Ford Stables.

Others entered in the race include Mrs. Marilyn V. Landy's Summer Rose, J. B. Buse's Beth Jay Be, Everett Lowrance's Everett Cynthia and Forrest H. Lindsay's Wiwita.

All starters carry 113 pounds, with the exception of Summer Rose, Adanir, Wiwita and Everett Cynthia, who remain maidens.

Arkansas A&M Wins Meet

MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas A&M took first place in a triangular track meet here Tuesday, downing Mississippi College and Arkansas State College.

A&M scored 68½ points, to 57 for Mississippi College and 40½ for Arkansas State.

State College Drops a Pair

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Washington University of St. Louis swept both games of a baseball doubleheader here Tuesday, defeating Arkansas State College 5-3 and 4-1.

A-State could manage only three runs on eight hits in the first game, including a home run by catcher Fred Mitchell with one man on.

The Indians' lone run in the second game came in the seventh inning on doubles by Jerry Presley and Bill Smith.

Ouachita Baseball Team Wins Pair

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) —

Ouachita Downed Arkansas A&M 7-1 and 16-1 in an Arkansas inter-collegiate Conference baseball doubleheader here Tuesday.

Winning pitchers were Ken Davenport and Larry Pugh. Davenport allowed five hits, struck out seven and walked three. Pugh allowed two hits before being relieved in the fifth by Kenny Gatos.

The Tigers collected 12 hits off four Aggie pitchers in the second game, which was called after five and a half innings because of time.

Gene Franklin was the losing pitcher in the first game.
